Description

Haines Hunter 400 Prowler

The new Haines Hunter 400 Prowler - Continuing the legacy of its larger counterparts, the 400 Prowler undoubtedly earns top marks in safety, performance, value for money, fishability, and innovative design. This model boasts standard features such as a moulded front windscreen, an ergonomically crafted console capable of accommodating some of the industry's most substantial electronic components.

The Prowler range of boats has long been synonymous with people who favour fishing from a centre console. Haines Hunter would like to introduce the smallest model in the range, the newly designed 400 Prowler. High Performance, High Safety

Following in the footsteps of the larger models, the 400 Prowler will certainly rank highly on safety, performance, value for money, fishability and innovative design. Ergonomically Designed

With standard features like a moulded front windscreen, an ergonomically designed console which will take some of the industry's larger electronic components, all stainless steel hull componentry and a wide flat floor, Haines Hunter know what it takes when it comes to upholding the reputation for outstanding quality and finish.
